LAWRENCE ASSOCIATION

OF LAWRENCE SCHOOL.

FOUNDED JAN. 3, 1844.

BOSTON:
PRESS OF GEO. C. RAND & AVERY,
No. 3, Cornhill.
1857.

Constitution of Lawrence Association.

WHEREAS, it is the duty and the privilege of every pupil to guard the honor of his school, and, by all justifiable means, to promote its good reputation, and the virtue and happiness of its members; and whereas, the senseless, unmanly, and vulgar vice of profanity, as well as other kindred vices, is known to exist among us: we, the undersigned, deeply deploring this great evil, and wishing both to exterminate it from our school, and to establish in its stead the means of social, intellectual, and moral culture, do hereby associate ourselves for these purposes, under the following

C O N S T I T U T I O N .

CHAPTER I. — NAME AND OBJECTS.

1. This society shall be called "The Lawrence Association of Lawrence School," in honor of Mr. Amos Lawrence, whose generosity has furnished us with an excellent library.*

* The especial interest of Mr. Lawrence in the Association commenced in 1846, and increased until his death. During this period his visits to the school amounted to an average of one a week; his correspondence to nearly one hundred letters, full of affectionate regard or parental advice; and his donations to the library, to the children for pleasure trips, and to the friendless and destitute connected with the

2. The objects of this Association shall be the suppression of profanity and kindred vices, and the promotion of the moral, intellectual, and social culture of its members.

CHAPTER II. — MEETINGS.

1. All meetings of the Association shall be held in the presence, or with the sanction of the Master, who may modify or veto any of the proceedings; and he shall have the same right to punish disorderly conduct as during school hours.

2. Seven male members shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of general business, and thirteen for the election of new members.

CHAPTER III. — MEMBERSHIP.

1. The privilege of joining this Association shall be confined to the first class of boys, and such other male members of Lawrence School as the Association, with the approval of the Master, may elect; provided, however, that the use of the library, and a membership entitling them to participate in the exercises of all the social and literary meetings of the Association, may be conferred on any deserving girls; and furthermore, provided, that in extraordinary cases, a person not belonging to the School may become a member, if elected by the unanimous consent of both male and female members present at the time of the election, and the Master sanctions the proceeding.

2. The names of all applicants for membership not belonging to the first class, shall be proposed by the Board of school, to a sum not less than—probably exceeding—two thousand dollars. Since Mr. L.'s decease, his widow has continued to bestow many valuable presents, and his son, Mr. A. A. L., inheriting the father's generosity, has given the Association, besides other donations, an annual entertainment on his grounds at Longwood, and a yearly distribution of forty dollars in prizes for literary effort.

Curators, or, being proposed by any other member, shall be referred to them for investigation; and the said Curators shall report upon the same at the next business meeting of the Association.

3. Candidates for membership may be balloted for after one month of good behavior, from the time of their nomination.

4. Each male member shall, before joining this Association, pledge himself to abstain from all kinds of profanity; and also to bear his proportional part in the literary and other exercises of the Association, unless excused therefrom by vote of a majority of the members present at the time of such refusal, or by the decision of the President, and, in general, to submit himself to all the requirements of this Constitution and of the By-Laws.

5. Members regularly graduating from the School, shall thereafter, unless expelled for cause, be considered honorary members of this Association, and, as such, entitled to participate in all the social and literary meetings, and to use the library, so long as they continue to reside in South Boston.

CHAPTER IV. — ELECTIVE OFFICERS.

Mode of Choosing, and Duties of the same.

1. The elective officers of this Association shall be a President, a Vice President, a Secretary, a Seretary's Assistant, a First and a Second Librarian, a Treasurer, and a Board of five Curators, all of whom shall be chosen semi-annually, by ballot, at a meeting regularly called for the purpose, during the months of March and September; but no brother shall be eligible to, or retained in, any office, who does not sustain a fair character for industry and good behavior in school. Vacancies may be filled at any time.

2. The duties of the President, the Vice President, and the Treasurer shall be such as are usually required of those officers; and the Treasurer shall make a semi-annual report of the amount and the condition of the funds in his hands.

3. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep an accurate record of the doings of all the meetings of this Association, to collect all dues, fees, or fines, (excepting such only as relate to the use of the library,) and make a record of the sums received upon the books of the Association; and whenever the said sums received shall amount to the value of one dollar, or sooner if called on, he shall pay the same into the hands of the Treasurer, taking his receipt therefor. He shall also, at the close of each term of service, present a written report of his transactions, accompanying it with such remarks or suggestions as he may deem to be of interest to the Association.

4. It shall be the duty of the Librarians to see that the books are well covered and carefully preserved, and they shall manage the loaning and receiving of the same, and shall keep a correct account of all books taken or returned. It shall also be their duty to examine every book returned, and to report the loss of a book, or any damage done to one, immediately, to the President, who shall decide what amount of remuneration must be made; and it shall furthermore be their duty to collect all demands growing out of the use of the library; and whenever the sums so collected shall amount in value to one dollar, or sooner if called upon, to pay the same into the hands of the Treasurer, taking his receipt therefor. They shall also deny the use of the library to any member or person whose dues, fines, or charges have not been fully paid; and they shall furnish a written report of their doings, and of the condition of the library, at the close of each semi-annual term of service.

5. It shall be the duty of the Board of Curators to watch over the general interests of the Association; to see that the several officers perform their duty; and, from time to time, to devise and present measures for the greater usefulness and prosperity of this institution. They shall also receive applications for membership, investigate the character of applicants, and present the names of such as they deem worthy for the action of the Association. They shall furthermore present a semi-annual report of their transactions.

CHAPTER V.—BY-LAWS, PENALTIES, AND AMENDMENTS.

1. The Association may, from time to time, establish such "By-Laws," not inconsistent with this Constitution, as may be deemed expedient.

2. Any willful violation of this Constitution, or of the By-Laws, shall expose the offender to punishment, by reprimand, fine, suspension, expulsion, or such other penalty as a three-fourths vote, or the Master's discretion, may direct.

3. Any proposition for amendment of this Constitution, shall lie upon the table until the second regular business meeting from that on which it is presented, when it may be taken up and acted upon ; but no change or addition to this Constitution shall be made without a two-thirds vote and the Master's concurrence in its favor.

BY-LAWS.

CHAPTER I. — MEETINGS.

1. The meetings of the Association shall be — a semi-annual meeting for the choice of officers; a monthly literary meeting; a monthly meeting for business purposes, and such other meetings as may be regularly notified by order of the President; but all the regular meetings may be suspended during the months of May, June, July, and August.

2. Meetings of the officers only may be called at the discretion of the President.

4. In every meeting, members shall allude to or address each other by the title of brother, or sister, and not by their proper names, and parliamentary rules must be observed in every transaction.

CHAPTER II. — MEMBERSHIP.

1. No boy shall become a member of this Association until he has passed through an initiatory ceremony, agreeably to ancient usage; and no boy shall be initiated until he has paid to the Secretary an admission fee of fifteen cents. and affixed his name to the Constitution and the By-Laws.

2. The name of any member wishing voluntarily to withdraw from membership, shall be referred to the Board of Curators, who shall investigate his standing; and if found worthy, he shall be entitled to an honorable discharge.

CHAPTER III. — FINES AND PENALTIES.

1. Any brother absenting himself from a meeting regularly notified, shall pay to the Secretary a fine of five cents, unless excused by the President, or by a vote of the Association; and any brother absenting himself from three consecutive meetings, except in case of severe sickness or absence from town, without forwarding to the Secretary a written excuse, shall be deemed to have forfeited his membership.

2. Tardiness beyond five minutes shall subject the offender to a fine of three cents, unless he shall offer a reasonable excuse, or be released by vote.

3. Any member who refuses to take part in a debate or other literary exercise assigned him, shall incur a fine of ten cents, unless excused by the President.

4. Any officer who neglects to perform his duty, shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten, nor more than twenty-five cents, or be degraded, at the pleasure of the Association.

5. Any honorary member whose life is openly scandalous, may be expelled by a three-fourths vote of the Association.

CHAPTER IV. — CHARGES AND TRIALS.

1. At each meeting the President shall inquire whether any violation of the Constitution or By-Laws, or any conduct unbecoming a member of the Association, has come to the knowledge of any one; and any member who neglects to give information, when possessed of it, shall be deemed equally guilty with the offender himself, and liable to suffer the same penalties.

2. Whenever a charge has been preferred against any member, the President shall appoint a committee of preliminary investigation, whose duty it shall be to inquire into the facts of the case, and report at the next meeting whether in their opinion there is sufficient evidence to justify a further trial. If the committee report in the affirmative, the President shall direct them to draw up an indictment, and he shall appoint the time for a hearing, notice of which, together with a copy of the indictment, shall be furnished to the accused, who may employ counsel to prepare and conduct his defence.

The President shall also direct some brother to collect evidence for the prosecution, and manage the government side of the case. On the day appointed, an impartial jury shall be selected from among the peers of the accused, who after hearing all the evidence, and receiving a charge from the President, acting in the capacity of Judge, shall retire by themselves and agree upon a verdict. If the accused be found guilty, the President shall proceed to pass sentence upon him, according to the Constitution and By-Laws, and the nature of the offence. In case an offender shall plead guilty of the charges preferred against him, he may receive his sentence without going through the forms of a trial.

CHAPTER V. — LITERARY MEETINGS.

1. The exercises of the literary meetings shall consist of reading original articles from the society's monthly "Oak Leaf;" an extemporaneous debate; music by the young ladies, and declamations by the young gentlemen; or such other exercises as may from time to time be substituted in their stead.

"At each meeting, the President shall appoint two brothers to lead in the discussion at the next meeting; and the brothers so appointed shall be present at said next meeting, and perform their part, if in their power so to do; and in case of unexpected inability, they shall, without fail, procure such substitutes as will insure a successful debate.

3. Any member may propose a subject for debate, and, if approved by the Association and the President, it shall be discussed. If no satisfactory subject is proposed, the leaders of debate shall select one.

4. No subject of party politics or of sectarian religion, shall be entertained for discussion in this Association.

5. Every brother present at a discussion is expected to take part in the debate ; but no one shall interrupt a speaker except to introduce a question of order, or to make an explanation, and no one shall speak longer than ten minutes at a time, unless by general consent.

CHAPTER VI. — THE LIBRARY.

1. The Board of Curators shall, in company with the President, and as often as once in each term, examine the library and the accounts of the same, and carefully inquire into its management and condition, and report the result to the Association.

2. The use of the library shall be subject to the following

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

1. The Library shall be open only for such periods and on such days as the Master may direct, it being his duty to see that all the affairs of the Association are held subservient to the interests of the school.

2. No person other than the Librarians and the master, shall interfere with the books, except the Board of Curators on their official visit.

3. Books shall be called for by their numbers, which must be handed to the Librarian, on a card prepared for the purpose.

4. When several persons apply for the same book, precedence shall be given according to the rank and standing of each in school.

5. No member shall have out more than one book at a time, nor shall a member lend the same to any individual out of the house in which said member resides.

6. Any member keeping a book more than two weeks, shall pay a fine of one cent per day, for all the time beyond said number of weeks.

7. If any book is lost or abused, the same must be replaced by a new copy, or by the payment of such sum as shall be assessed by the President.

8. All books shall be returned to the Library one week previous to the February and August vacations; and no book shall be thereafter loaned until the Librarians have had time to place the Library in a proper condition, and their work has been declared satisfactory to the Board of Curators.

9. It shall be the imperative duty of the Librarians to see that the foregoing rules are strictly complied with, and that no member is permitted to use the Library while in arrears to the Association, to the value of any thing.

 Parents and guardians are earnestly requested to see that books brought to their houses are carefully used and safely returned, agreeably to the prescribed regulations.
